

ON THE T

The View from County Arts

Newsletter Issue 1

EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION

Welcome one and all to the very first issue of the spectacular County Arts Newsletter – “ON THE T”!

In case you don't know me, that's me on the left (I'm the one with the blue coat on, not the barnacles – the barnacles, by the way belong to an Anthony Gormley sculpture called “Another Place” which is on Crosby Beach, near Liverpool.

For some time now, a few of us have thought that it would be a good idea to start a Newsletter to keep members informed about the multitude of things that go on at County Arts.

It is my intention, at least for the time being, to provide a consistent Newsletter, distributed via email regularly, which all Members feel they can take part in. As you'd imagine, I can't just do this by myself (pause for innuendo). Like the idea? Then let me know. Hate the idea? Equally, please let me know and feel free to have a good whinge. Have a contribution to make, a funny story to tell, a suggestion for anything to improve this publication, then please hit the button - countyarts@outlook.com or speak to me at the club, preferably when I'm not about to deliver yet another superb wood (I wish!)

John Cator Management Committee and Newsletter Editor
My thanks to Liz McMillan for proof reading etc.
